Police Care For Lost Toddler While Parents See Movie

The Carmel police department added baby sitting to their duties last night, when at 7:41 o'clock, they received a report that a three-year-old boy in his pajamas and carrying a bunch of keys was wandering along the street in the vicinity of Monte Verde and Fifth.

He was Justin Hodges.

Police officers recognized the boy when they picked him up, having found him wandering several times before and taken him home. This time his parents were not at the house, which was unlocked, so they took the boy to the police station where he remained until 11:15 o'clock when his parents returned from attending a theater in Monterey.

During this time Carmel police made several trips to the boy's home and left a note telling of the child's whereabouts. On the advice of deputy District Attorney Patrick O'Reilly they prepared a police report for his office and obtained a written statement from the mother of the child, Mrs. Gabrielle Hodges, when she returned.

According to the police department, the boy's parents said they had locked him in his room, locked the house and informed neighbors they would be away before leaving for the theater. The mother also said that where they had lived previously it was all right to leave a child alone in a house.

The deputy district attorney has issued a complaint in a warrant for the mother's arrest on a charge of child neglect.

Zenas Potter Opens Campaign For Attainable Disarmament Program

A campaign to secure Presidential consideration of an "Attainable Disarmament Program for Christian America" got under way in Carmel this week. The first official statement of the proposal appears on the back page of this issue of the Pine Cone.

Framer of the program is Zenas L. Potter, of Carmel, with a long record of concern with defense and foreign affairs problems.

In World War I he was Assistant Director of President Woodrow Wilson's Planning Bureau, concerned with all war activities. During the last war he spent five years in Washington; came back to Carmel convinced that fission of the atom would revolutionize defense and foreign relations problems. For two years he ran Atomic Information Programs here on the Peninsula, bringing here as speakers physicists, radiologists, engineers, political scientists and others who could speak with authority. He proposed a plan to test our defenses against smuggled bombs which led Defense Secretary Forrestal to send two Army specialists here to study the plan. They returned to Washington and recommended its adoption.

Twice Potter has addressed the Commonwealth Club of California on defense problems and has taken part in radio forum programs. In 1954 he campaigned to get the government to consider equipping the United Nations to spread radioactive Atomic Maginot Lines ahead of aggression, wherever it takes place in the world. He has contributed to the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, and two years before President Truman announced work of the H bomb, told audiences here and up and down the Coast that a bomb 1,000 times as powerful as the Hiroshima bomb could be made.

The "Attainable Disarmament Program for Christian America" embraces two proposals: (1) that the United States announce that, regardless of what other nations do, will not make or test any more bombs, for the next two years.

New Budget Shows 2 Cent Increase In City Taxes

City Clerk Larry Rose completed the Municipal Budget for the Fiscal Year, 1957-58, this week, putting in all the things the commissioners have requested for their departments. The tax rate will be $1.02 next year, up two cents. And it will be up more than two cents unless the council can find a way to cut out $9545. Resources and anticipated revenues total $360,083; obligations and anticipated expenditures, $369,628.

There are several ways of paring down the expenditure item to retrieve the $9000. The council can slow down the refunding of reserves, a $15,000 provision in the budget. They can say no to the street department's request for $1800 more material this year than last, and a new compressor, $5000, and a new roller, $4500. They can frown on the police department's idea that it should turn in both its cars each year instead of one, $1,700. Then there's the $2000 budgeted for building a fence around the corporation yard when a hedge will look better anyway.

Salary raises account for much of the budget increase.

MITCHELLS IN COLORADO

Superintendent of Schools Stuart Mitchell and Mrs. Mitchell left on Wednesday morning for a two weeks' trip to Colorado planning to visit Aspen, Estes Park and Denver. Mr. Mitchell will be back in his office on August 21.

J. C. Election On Agenda For Tues. Board Meeting

When the school board meets Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock to open bids on play field improvements, they will also explore the possibilities of calling an advisory question election or of conducting an opinion poll in the Carmel Unified School District on the junior college question.

At Monday night's meeting, this week, the board consented to a public meeting in September because the citizens committee had recommended it, but board members and individual citizens expressed doubt that a true estimate of public sentiment can be made from such meetings.

At that time the board did not accept the offer of the Carmel Taxpayers Association to conduct a letter poll (see news story this page). Also, they informed citizens who asked that the board call an advisory question election within the district that there was not provision in the school code for their doing so. They could not use school district funds to finance such an election, they said.

Several school board members felt early this week that a way might be found to hold an election or letter poll, and Superintendent Stuart Mitchell added the following item to the agenda for the coming meeting:

"Consideration of poll by board on junior college question. Mr. Bert Lindsley (from the district attorney's office) will be present to advise the board."

There probably will be only three board members present: George Yates, Glenn Leidig and Ted Fehring. Mrs. Julian von Meier and Gordon Campbell will be out of town.

You Can Tie Up Your Dogs Now, Rabies Law Is Rescinded

The city council rescinded the emergency dog ordinance at last night's meeting. The ordinance required that owners prevent their dogs from running loose in the residence district. The council enacted the law on the request of county health officer, Dr. Myron Husband, because of a rise in rabies incidence on the peninsula.

The community was unanimous in disdaining the ordinance. More dogs than ever cruised along the streets because dogs which had been kept on the owners premises for years were allowed to join the dogs-about-town as a demonstration against a ukase so unreasonable, outrageous, inhumane and dastardly.

The city council was not happy about adopting the ordinance in the first place and when they found last week that the county had no similar ordinance, they asked themselves, "Why should we ask people on the north side of Santa Lucia Street to tie up their dogs when the county lets the dogs on

New Taxpayers Assn. Announced At School Board Meeting Monday

At its Monday night meeting, the school board agreed, reluctantly and after much debate among the audience, to call a public meeting at Sunset Auditorium September 10 or 11 at 8:00 o'clock on the junior college question: shall Carmel join with Pacific Grove and Monterey in forming a junior college district or remain independent and continue to pay tax-tuition for its students attending the junior colleges of their choice. The board favors establishing the peninsula-wide junior college and can do so by passing a resolution.

The public meeting was recommended by an eight member citizens committee, appointed by the board, presumably to study conflicting surveys and make a report on them.

August Nieto, chairman of the citizens committee, presented to the school board the minutes of the committee's three meetings, in lieu of a report, and said:

"We believe it is of advantage, educationally and financially, to join. This is our recommendation: that the school board petition for a junior college district but postpone signing the resolution until after a public meeting to answer questions."

School Board Member Ted Fehring asked: "Are you going to come back with another recommendation if the meeting proves to be adverse to your recommendation?"

Mr. Nieto: "We were not authorized to sample public opinion."

Paul McKinstry, a member of the citizens committee, said: "We do not feel we can speak for six or seven thousand people. Some reason should be given to the public for our conclusion. You (the school board) should be able to judge the pulse of the people."

Mr. Fehring and several members of the audience expressed doubt that public meetings reveal the pulse of the people.

Enos Fouratt offered another method:

"I represent Carmel Taxpayers Association, a new organization. We ask you to put over any action until we can contact property owners in our district with a letter, giving pro and con. We would include a return card for an expression of opinion. We suggest you prepare the pro state-

GILROY WINS CARMEL LITTLE LEAGUE TOURNAMENT

Paced by their all-around ball player, pitcher - second - baseman Frank Navarette, the Gilroy Industrials won the recent Little League area tournament held at Carmel's Little League Park. Gilroy clipped the Seaside Whiskerinos, 7 to 3, the first time out in the tournament and came back the next day to whip the San Carlos Realty, 10 to 6. In the win over the Whiskerinos, Navarette hit a homer with the bases loaded to drive in enough runs for the win. Against Carmel's San Carlos Realty, the talented Navarette hit a home-run and a double to drive in six runs. He also pitched a three-hitter to notch the win against San Carlos.

Carmel's San Carlos team got off to a good start in the tournament blanking the Seaside Rotary Club, 5 to 0, as Danny Holman pitched a sparkling two-hitter. The little right-hander was brilliant all the way in this one, striking out 15 Rotary swingers and giving up no walks. San Carlos scored enough runs to win in the first inning when Dick Hubbell hit a homer to drive in two runs. Lyndon Mahrt, San Carlos catcher had a perfect day at the plate, stroking a solid three-for-three.

In Saturday's championship game against Gilroy, the San Carlos nine dropped four runs behind in the third frame when Navarette connected for a booming home run. However, the Carmel lads kept hustling all the way and closed up to 7-6 in the final inning only to see the visitors hit the scoreboard for three more markers when Navarette hit a screaming double with the bases jammed. Lyndon Mahrt and Dick Hubbell shared the pitching chores for San Carlos and gave up 10 hits between them.

By winning the Carmel Tournament, the Gilroy squad earns the right to compete in the District Finals which will be held at Salinas this Saturday afternoon.

SWIM MEETS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

A busy weekend is in store for Carmel swimmers as the Recreation City Meet is slated for Friday morning at 10:00 o'clock and a three-way meet with Salinas and Santa Cruz is set for Saturday morning at 9:30. The Recreation Meet is limited to youngsters who have been participating in the swim program at the high school pool this summer. Participants need not be excellent nor fast swimmers to take part in this meet. There will be events for all types of swimmers and kickboard and walking races for those who can't swim across the pool. In addition to the swim meet Friday morning, the synchronized swim class will put on an exhibition of plain and fancy ballet.

Saturday morning's three-way meet with Salinas and Santa Cruz will be in the nature of a warm-up meet for the Tri-County Meet which will be held in the Pacific Grove Pool on August 17th.

In a recent twilight meet at Pacific Grove, the Carmel swimmers dunked the Pacific Grove team, 101 to 67, as Mike Cook, Pat Mosolf, Don Kneedler, Gary Aebersold, and Barbara Giles came through with double victories. Pat and Mike finished first in the back and breaststrokes, Don was a freestyle and breaststroke winner, while Gary and Barbara picked up the blue ribbons in the freestyle and backstroke events. Ronnie Berry and Ann Giles were also first place winners for the Carmel swim meet. Other point-getters for Carmel were: Keith Kneedler, Wendy Draper, Ciji Ware, Leslie Strosnider, Ronnie Jella, Susan Shirley, Tim Fry, Sandy Aebersold, Mary Ann Seaward, Tommy, Kathleen, and Pat Aldrich. Due to a time deadline, there were no diving or relays held during this meet.

YOUTH CENTER TOURNAMENT

At the recently completed Carmel Youth Center shuffleboard tournament, Diane Blivens was declared the champion as she outshuffled runner-up Pam Murdock in the tourney finals. Hilary Teague won over Penny Fleming to gain the third spot with Kaaren Engle taking fifth ahead of Sherry Nevis and Lillian Hagar.

The weekly junior boys horseshoe tournament was won by Phil O'Shea who put his accurate pitching arm to good use in downing runner-up Fred Bucher. Frank Bucher, Leonard Wolff, and Bob Goble won enough games to deadlock for the third spot.

Big tournament on the Youth Center agenda next week is the Keith MacKenzie Memorial table tennis tournament which gets underway Wednesday, August 14th. This annual tournament always brings out the best paddle-wielders in the popular play spot and the winner is respected as the Youth Center champion for the rest of the year.

HENRY WILLIAMS HOME

Henry Meade Williams is back in Carmel, having completed a writing assignment for the Christian Children's Fund in Richmond, Virginia. This work has kept him away from Carmel and his family for almost two years, except for holiday visits.

During the past year while Henry was writing in Virginia, his wife Mona Williams has completed and sold a novel, tentatively called The Marriage, to be published by Putnam and Sons.

Welcoming Henry on his return home, besides Mona, were his older daughter Mrs. Edgar Bryant and her husband Ed, his year old granddaughter Jessica Bryant, his younger daughter Lacey, and his mother and brother, Mrs. Jesse Lynch Williams and Lyn Williams. Only member of the immediate family not in Carmel is Chris Williams, Henry and Mona's son, now stationed with the Army in Germany. He hopes to be back in Carmel by Christmas time, after three years absence.

CY JOHNSONS HERE

Former Carmelites Mr. and Mrs. Cy Johnson spent Tuesday and Wednesday here seeing friends and noting changes up and down Ocean Avenue and Dolores Street. They now live in Hillsborough and Mr. Johnson has his office in San Francisco. Mr. Johnson formerly had a brokerage office in Carmel on Dolores Street.

CAROL LEE FRISBIE BORN

Mr. and Mrs. William Frisbie have three children since the birth of their second daughter Carol Lee at the Peninsula Community Hospital on July 26. Carol's sister is six-year-old Stephanie. Her brother Jeffrey is three and a half years old.

Mr. Frisbie brought his family to live in Carmel a year and a half ago. He is a 1950 graduate of Monterey Peninsula College, now a Pan-American Airlines pilot on San Francisco to Honolulu flights.

Carol's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Karl Frisbie of Pebble Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dreiling of Somis, California.

"We expect them any day," said Carol's father when asked if Mr. and Mrs. Dreiling had met their latest grandchild.

M. P. V. S. Garden Tour Wednesday

Fourteen Carmel, Carmel Meadows, Pebble Beach and Monterey Peninsula Country Club gardens will be open to the public on Wednesday from 10:00 o'clock in the morning until 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon for the Sixth Annual Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services' Garden and Patio Tour to benefit the Peninsula Visiting Nurse Association. Refreshments will be served from 2:00 - 4:00 o'clock at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Thorndike in Carmel Meadows and Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Ramey in the Country Club area. Tickets may be purchased by telephoning MA 4-7663, or at Del Monte Forest gates and any garden open on the day of the tour. Price of admission includes entrance to Del Monte Forest and refreshments.

The gardens, each with special charm and appeal, vary from the small, intimate, walled type to large estates where masses of blooms are framed by groves of cypress and pine. Chosen by tour chairman Mrs. Archer M. Allen are the following gardens: in Carmel Meadows, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Thorndike and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Buol; in Carmel, Mrs. Charles A. Trumbly and Mrs. George Dunbaugh; Pebble Beach, Mrs. Carl S. Stanley and Mr. and Mrs. Earl O. Schnetz; in the Monterey Peninsula Country Club a group of eight connecting gardens on Coral Drive.

Interiors will be shown at the Thorndike and Dunbaugh homes. The latter has been the subject for articles and photographs in national magazines.

Mary Smith

Miss Mary M. Smith died on Monday in a local rest home after an illness of several months. She had lived in Carmel for 20 years and for 15 years of this time operated Holiday House at Camino Real and Seventh Avenue with her sister, Miss Isabel Smith, who died in 1948.

Miss Smith was born in Edgarton, Kansas, on November 9, 1870. She was a member of the Church of the Wayfarer Auxiliary and particularly interested in this group's work for lepers.

She is survived by several nieces and nephews living in Kansas.

Funeral services were held this morning at 10:00 o'clock in the Paul Funeral Chapel, with Dr. E. Leigh Mudge officiating. Inurnment followed in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove.

Friends wishing to make donations in memory of Miss Smith are asked to do so in the form of contributions to the Memorial Organ Fund of the Church of the Wayfarer.

DUNS AWAY ON VACATION

The Reverend Angus Dun Jr., rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Mrs. Dun and the four children, are spending this week vacationing at Strawberry Lake.

"Mr. Richard" New Hair Stylist At The Powder Puff

"Mr. Richard" (Richard A. Jones) a hair stylist and colorist of wide professional experience, has joined the staff of the Powder Puff Beauty Shoppe in Las Tiendas Court, off Ocean Avenue, Carmel.

Richard gained his professional training in New York. In Boston he was a member of the staff of the beauty salons in both the Statler Hotel and in Filene's department store.

Preferring to practice his profession in resort areas, he later went to Honolulu where he was in the salon at the Waikiki Biltmore. Later he was a staff member in the beauty shops of the Arizona Biltmore at Phoenix, and at both the Roney-Plaza and Saxony Hotels in Miami Beach. Before coming to Carmel, Richard was associated with a well known hair styling house at Stonestown near San Francisco.

Here he will specialize in hair styling and coloring, as well as permanent waving, and the usual coiffeur services. As well, Richard will serve as masseur. He gained his training in that field with Bernarr MacFadden.

Mrs. Virginia Snyder is the owner of the Powder Puff Beauty Shoppe. She and Laura Dixon will continue as members of the staff of the salon along with "Mr. Richard."

Kippy Stuart Town House Talk

Carmel resident Kippy Stuart, author, garden expert and world traveler will speak at Town House on Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Her topic will be Jungle Lore. For many years Mrs. Stuart lived on islands off the coast of Borneo in the Sulu and Celebes Seas. On Mindinao, largest of the islands, Mrs. Stuart dwelt in the jungle among the native men and women.

The exhibit of paintings by Lise and Gerald Stout is open from 10:00 to 5:00 o'clock daily, Monday through Friday.

Time Is Running Out For Music Society Subscriber Renewals

Carmel Music Society season ticket renewal deadline is August 15. After this date all seats which are not taken by last year's season ticket holders will be available to new subscribers.

Seat location reservations, after next Thursday, will be made in the order in which they are received. If a new subscriber sends in a check before last year's season ticket holder, the new subscriber will have precedence in seat selection.

All checks should be sent to Carmel Music Society, Box 1144, Carmel, California.

Artists in the 1957-58 Music Society series are Nan Merriman, mezzo-soprano; Les Ballets Janine Charrat de France; Isaac Stern, violinist; Guiomar Novaes, pianist, and the Festival Quartet.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

New Taxpayers Assn. Announced At School Board Meeting Monday

ment; we will find the anti. The Taxpayers Association will be happy to underwrite the cost."

Mr. Fouratt said that the tax payers association was formed a week ago. There are 50 or more members already. "We ask the co-operation of your board. This is not a pressure group. We welcome all of you to join. Things come up that affect the district, and the need for such an organization has been discussed over coffee and lunch for some time."

He named the board of directors: Corum Jackson, Dudley Swim, Jack Stanton, Francis Whitaker, Phil Hatton, Mrs. Geraldine Smith, Stuyvesant Fish, James Doud, Bert Heron and himself. Francis Whitaker is a Carmel City Councilman, Bert Heron, a former Carmel mayor; Geraldine Smith, a former city councilwoman; Corum Jackson and Enos Fouratt have held office of president of both the Carmel Business Association and the Carmel Board of Realtors. Dudley Swim is president of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association.

Since the school board was not receptive to the taxpayers association's offer of a mail ballot, Francis Whitaker suggested that the school board hold an election in the Carmel district before it petitions for the junior college district.

Superintendent Stuart Mitchell informed him that he had consulted with the district attorney and been informed there was no provision in the school code for holding an advisory question election within the Carmel district.

Dudley Swim pointed out that elections were fundamental to the democratic processes and one is especially needed in this case.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. H. Watson, Mrs. Martha Moller and Mrs. Charlotte Clark spoke in favor of the school board's using its power to put Carmel in the junior college district without sampling public opinion.

Bert Heron and Francis Whitaker spoke in favor of Carmel's establishing its own junior college. The board said that was impossible.

Senator Fred Farr said: "A small group of people who are 'against education' are trying to block the junior college district. 'The University of California will not establish one of its four year colleges here if Carmel shows it is hostile to education by not joining the junior college district,' he concluded.

Gunnar Norberg, a citizens committee member, who voted no on their recommendation to the board, gave a minority report.

Just before adjournment the board decided to call the public meeting, Mrs. Julian von Meier voting no.

BY ROBERTA MCCONNELL

With a buoyant emphasis on "now," Marjorie Freston, the Carmel pianist who accompanied Madame Schumann-Heink on a farewell tour is quick to smile and say, "But that was a long time ago. It seems foolish to remember so much of yesterday when we have so much today and tomorrow to think about and plan for!"

And with such an effervescent outlook, the todays and tomorrows of Marjorie Freston have carried her to concert halls across the country as symphony soloist and through the Columbia Concert Association, as accompanist to such people as Rene Maison, Claudia Muzio, Adalina Paggi, Russell Horton, former Bach Festival artist, and the grand one, Madame Schumann-Heink, of whom Mrs. Freston says, "She was an amazing woman, as everyone knows, warm and wonderful, with a fiery good temper, when the occasion called for it."

And there are "occasions" on every tour, Mrs. Freston says, because along with full houses, receptive audiences and the heart-warming applause that tells an artist his job has been well done, there are things like poor scheduling that makes you grab the observation platform of a moving train in order to keep the next the south side of Santa Lucia (the city limits boundary) go free?"

They inquired of Dr. Husband, rather pointedly, if the county intended to pass a tie-up ordinance, too, and Dr. Husband asked the county supervisors, and they said of course not. Dr. Husband then informed the council that the incidence of rabies in Monterey County had dropped: no rabid dogs for six weeks; no rabid skunks for three. He told the council he would not resent it if they repealed the emergency dog ordinance, which they did at the earliest opportunity, and with pleasure.

The ordinance which requires owners to keep their dogs on a leash in the business district and prohibits dogs in restaurants and food stores is still in effect. It has existed for several years, and dog owners respect it, for the most part.

Conservation On The March

A Weekly Column by
C. Edward Graves,
Western Representative,
National Parks Association

DEVEREUX BUTCHER RESIGNS

The latest issue of National Parks Magazine carries an announcement of the resignation of Devereux Butcher, who has been its editor since publication was started in 1942. The announcement states that Mr. Butcher "for some time has wished to be relieved of the time-consuming details of editorial mechanics and of meeting deadlines, so to give more attention to field work and to reaching wider audiences with his writing and photography". He is continuing his connection with the Association as a member of the Board of Trustees and of the Executive Committee.

Mr. Butcher has also served as Executive Secretary from 1942 to 1950 and as Field Representative since then. His work in building the National Parks Association up to its present position of influence in conservation councils has been outstanding. His deep sincerity and relentless militancy against what he considers to be wrong in national park administration has won him the highest respect, even among his opponents.

His final editorial, entitled "The Park Service and Wilderness", is an excellent example of his effective presentation of problems that concern the National Parks Association and all other wilderness conservation groups. It is a series of comments on a National Park Service document issued last March, entitled "Preservation of Natural and Wilderness Values in the National Parks".

The editorial reads in part:

"The promulgation of this statement, as we interpret the statement and the circumstances of its issuance, may well mark the end of a very tense period of decision. The National Parks Association during recent years has been concerned with the efforts of forces to turn the National Park Service away from the sort of policy that is here strongly avowed and faithfully interpreted. Nearly four years ago, for example, the Association found it advisable by formal resolution to declare that it "disapproves any mechanical ski development in the national park system", and the Association has pondered with anxiety such developments in Rocky Mountain, Mount Rainier, Yosemite, and other national parks. These concerns have not been simply with regard to these particular mechanized ski intrusions — serious as they are in themselves — but rather with them also as indications of possible trends. In this comprehensive wilderness pronouncement we now can see improved prospects for dealing with such threats in accordance with the fundamental preservation policies that to us seem sound and in the public interest".

Mr. Butcher's approval of this apparently new trend in Park Service policy is tempered by reference to an expression of uncertainty in one part of the document. He writes: "We have not failed to notice that the National Park Service itself, citing proposals that are "not so clear cut", poses and does not answer the question, "How about a ski tow, for example, or a skating rink, or a toboggan slide?" To us who have already studied this question long enough from the standpoint of national park and wilderness preservation to give a clear-cut "no" answer to ski-tow, skating-rink, and toboggan-slide proposals, the continued recognition of this issue as "not so clear cut" must be an incentive to continued discussion and vigilant advocacy of park preservation principles as set forth in the National Park Standards which this Association has so carefully developed and adopted".

Typically, the editorial both praises the Park Service for the document and weighs the praise against apparent vacillation in this one respect. It is a fitting close to an outstanding series of editorials.

SHOOTS WITH BEST

Colonel Luke S. Shields of Carmel will test his shooting prowess in the National Pistol Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, starting tomorrow and continuing through August 17. He is civilian chief, engineering division, at Fort Ord. At the matches Colonel Shields will represent the Sixth Army, as a member of the 6211th Station Complement, a reserve unit training every Thursday night at Fort Ord.

Colonel Shields lives on Hatton Road with his wife Erma. Their younger daughter, Diane, will be a freshman at Carmel High this year, and the Shields' two older children, Carol and Roger, are both graduates of the Carmel schools.

The Time Has Come.

by Kippy Stuart

Things I miss on the Pacific Coast — Long lanes of chestnut trees . . . fireflies . . . summer thunder storms with sheet lightning, then boom!! boom!! Gentle summer rain . . . peonies . . . fragrant eastern lilac . . . arbutus . . . lobsters with claws . . . sunflowers that span a man's two hands . . . the lordly elms. . . .

Hey! For goodness sake, what's the matter with me? Can it be that the human is so perverse that no matter how rich he is in his home territory that he is forever looking at those far "greener pastures"? Memory always enhances the past and nostalgia is the common inheritance of us all.

This train of thought was triggered in me by one lonely sunflower blooming all by itself right here in Carmel. At the turn of San Carlos Street into Rio Road, on the way to Carmel Mission, as cockey as you please, a genuine Kansas sunflower graces the roadside, not in someone's garden, where care would probably kill the sturdy sunflower, but alone and abandoned, outside the property fence, almost in the road. I wonder how many Easterners have seen this flower and wondered?

I have walked through fields in the east with this same variety of sunflower brushing my shoulders. I have collected the seeds and dried them for pleasurable eating. My parrot literally "swore" by these sunflower seeds. From there my memory darted back to New Hampshire. The snow-filled fields, trees glistening with ice magic . . . soft snow flakes touching my cheeks . . . the annual trek into the woods to scrape away the snow and find beneath the snows, beds of fragrant arbutus. The winters are so long in New England that snow lingers far into the Spring. I remember, even on May Day, gathering arbutus for the traditional May basket, which is always tied to a friend's gate post, supposedly donated by the "fairies".

But, can you imagine the nostalgia that wracks the Californian who is banished to the Eastern coast? He will long for fields of callas, drifts of lupin laced with golden poppy, ceanothus draping the hillsides. He will long for the fragrance of burning manzanita wood, the majestic redwood trees, even our lowly iceplant will bring nostalgia.

So . . . I guess wherever we are, we are stuck with it, the nostalgia of "greener pastures" over the hill.

WATER
The Most Important Thing In Life

"A garden is a lovesome thing, and blessed is she who can have a garden."

Residents of the lovely Monterey Peninsula indeed are blessed, because the most beautiful gardens in the state can be seen here. Here the soil is perfect, the temperature and weather excellent. And hundreds of wondrous yards attest these conditions.

We are fortunate, too, because an abundance of pure, mountain water is available. Without water our area would be nothing but barren hillsides.

California Water & Telephone Company is proud of the part it plays in helping to enhance the native beauty of the Monterey Peninsula.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

This library has a goodly number of old and rare books. Not the priceless kind, but the valuable. Never have we had a place to shelve them properly. We are about to prepare such a place. Doors will soon be fitted to two sections of wall shelving on the top level of the library right next to the sections we enclosed for the Harrison books. These two sections are full of mystery fiction right now, but the mysteries will be moved to another place, and where they are will not be a mystery because we shall tell you plainly, and also post a sign. Doors will protect these very old books from dust, moisture, and handling. Already we are beginning to work on them in preparation for taking them upstairs. They must be cleaned, the leather and parchment bindings dressed, and then brief cataloging done. Because of a consuming interest in such things, these workings are going to be done by this librarian. When finished, the books will make a beautiful collection. Many of them were given to the library several years ago by a son of the Ralph Chandler Harrisons who gave the original library to the community. Which brings us naturally to the question of whether or not there is anyone present here who would like to give a children's library to this community. Oh well, it was worth a try.

Books this week are good. We know we always say that, but this week it is true. Cindy and I is the hilarious story of comedian Joey Adams and his wife Cindy. It is funny all the way. Another funny one is Any Old Place With You by William Zinsser. This is the account of the Zinsser's marriage and honeymoon spent in the Belgian Congo and other fantastic places.

First Lady of the Seeing Eye by Morris Frank is a truly inspiring story of the beginning of the Seeing Eye and its training of guide dogs for the blind. Morris Frank went for his guide dog in 1927, four years after he became blind. The book is illustrated with photographs, and those of Mr. Frank show clearly what such a friend and guide can mean to the sightless.

Described as the work of an enemy, The American Woman by Eric Dingwell is a stinging portrait by a British onlooker. The author is described as a sexual anthropologist who works in the British Museum. This is a book which will probably be talked about. The bad thing about it is that Rinehart has set it up in somewhat smaller type than is customary, and it's a bit difficult to read for any length of time. Perhaps that will not bother you too much, especially if you are angered by it and read on feverishly disregarding the type size.

There are seven new novels, including the latest one by Frank Slaughter, who writes this time under his pseudonym of C. V. Terry. This is another historical of Elizabethan England. Slaughter writes good historicals, which most of us like to read. There are mysteries this week, and even a good western. We seldom buy westerns, but when Frank Gruber writes one, we buy it. This one is called Lonesome River. Oh yes, we also have the latest from James Thurber. It is entitled The Wonderful O. To this librarian it was a disappointment. Perhaps you can enjoy it as much as his earlier ones. Perhaps our mood was wrong. It's such a short book that a mood can last longer than the reading of the book. Try it!

Personal Appearance Opens Friday Evening At Circle Theatre

With a record Broadway run of over 500 performances, Personal Appearance will be presented by the Golden Bough Players tomorrow evening, directed by Charles Thomas. Performances will be given each Friday through Sunday weekend for six weeks.

Personal Appearance by Lawrence Riley is a frolicsome comedy. Carole Arden (Emilja Sosic) movie star and wife of Benjamin Z. Fineberg, president of Superfine Pictures Inc., is on a publicity tour. Knowing her propensity for having romances, her studio has sent along as her publicity manager Gene Tuttle (Don Ross) whose main duties are to keep Carole out of mischief. Completing her party are her dresser Jessie (Michel MacKay) and her chauffeur Johnson (John McKinney).

En route, Carole's car breaks down outside a tourist home and gas station. When the good looking young boss of the gas station, Bud Norton (Dick Lieberth) and his assistant Clyde Pelton (Jack Starrett) come into view, Carol decides to add Bud to her collection of boy friends. But Bud's fiance Joyce Struthers (Sally Stockton) has no intention of yielding Bud, and she is abetted by her Aunt Kate Barnaby (Mary Crane). Onlookers are Joyce's mother, Addie Struthers (Florence Venn) and movie struck Gladys Kelcey (Miriam Wolfe).

Backstage crew includes Donald Ross, stage manager; Jock Starrett, assistant stage manager; Anne Petersen and her daughter Anne, props; Henry Hairstylist, hairstyling.

Lise, Gerald Stout Have August Show At Town House

The August exhibit at Carmel Foundation Town House will be a joint showing of oils and water colors by Lise and Gerald Stout of Carmel. It opened on August 6 with a tea from 3:00 to 4:30 o'clock to which all friends and interested persons were invited.

Gerald and Lise Stout moved to Carmel in April 1956 and established Stout's Frame Shop on the ground floor of the M. De Neale Morgan Studio. Recently they enlarged the shop to include a small gallery.

Mrs. Stout, who paints under her maiden name of Poiret, studied design at the University of South Carolina and watercolor under Frederick J. Schwankovsky who was one of the originators of the Laguna Beach Art Gallery. She is a member of the Society of Western Artists and served as Historian in 1955-56. It was during this period that she began oil painting as a student of Mr. Stout prior to their marriage.

Mr. Stout first came to Carmel in 1927 with his parents for their summer vacation and continued to do so each year. At the age of 13 he became interested in painting and studied for five summers under the late M. De Neale Morgan. His work shows the influence of this nationally known artist and pioneer of the Carmel art colony. He also studied woodcarving in his teens under Charles Sayers at the Carmel School of Woodcarving and it has been a combination of these two early interests that has resulted in his present occupation. He has exhibited extensively since being accepted as an exhibitor at the age of 14 in the California State Art Show. His work has been shown in many cities of the state and in Arizona. He is past president of the Society of Western Artists in whose annual he won honorable mention on two occasions, in 1955 he was awarded a sweepstakes prize.

William Hughes

William V. Hughes died on Friday in his home at Thirteenth Avenue and Casanova Street. Although he had been under a physician's care because of a heart ailment, his death was unexpected.

Mr. Hughes, a retired utility executive from Bismarck, North Dakota, moved to Carmel in December, 1955, from Evanston, Illinois. He was born in Elk Point, South Dakota, on August 3, 1880. His marriage to the former Margaret Haggart took place in Fargo, North Dakota, in 1905.

He is survived by Mrs. Hughes of Carmel; three sons, Alexander H. Hughes and Frank H. Hughes, both of San Francisco, and William H. Hughes of St. Paul, Minnesota; a daughter, Mrs. Bruce A. Mackey of Libertyville, Illinois; two brothers, E. A. Hughes of Bismarck, North Dakota, and F. C. Hughes of Squirrel Island, Maine; and a sister, Mrs. Helen Hughes Richards of Honolulu; and ten grandchildren.

Funeral services, conducted by the Reverend Charles H. Burrill, were held on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel. Inurnment was in the Little Chapel-of-the-Sea, Pacific Grove.

Anyone Have A Cricket?

Senator Fred Farr was intrigued with the cricket cage given him at a surprise birthday party on Friday evening. The cage was empty, as none of the 30 guests thought to provide an occupant. Anyone knowing of a cricket looking for a home through the approaching winter may inform Senator Farr of its whereabouts. It will be the only cricket known to give thought to tomorrow and to disprove Aesop's fable, representing the "face reality" trend abroad in the world today.

Mrs. Howden At Home On Sunday

Friends of Mrs. Grace Howden are reminded to call at her home, Carmadon, on Sunday afternoon for the At Home which she has on the second Sunday of each month.

Susan Hirst Married

Susan Lee Hirst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hirst, was married to Robert Savage of Bangor, Maine, on Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock by the Reverend Angus Dun Jr. in All Saints' Episcopal Church. Large bowls of white carnations and gladioli decorated the altar lighted by tall tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an empire style gown with a scoop-necked short-sleeved bodice of pearl embroidered Chantilly lace from which fell a full ivory taffeta princess skirt made with tiny gores which flowed into a chapel length train in back. A small half cap of ivory illusion net held in place her heirloom chapel length, hand embroidered lace veil, made in a French convent in Shanghai two decades ago. Her bouquet was a sunburst arrangement of lilies of the valley with showers of bouvardia.

Carol Lange of Elm Grove, Wisconsin, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Susan McCloud of Carmel and Ellen Mann of Watsonville, all Stanford classmates of the bride. They were dressed alike in Wedgewood green taffeta gowns, with crossed folds of the taffeta defining the empire bodices from which fell full princess skirts with inverted box pleats. In their hair they wore matching taffeta bandeaux trimmed with flat bows and nosegays of tiny yellow roses. Their bouquets were spidery arrangements of yellow Goldilocks baby roses.

Philip Maxwell of Honolulu was best man, and ushers were Daniel Boone and Robert Ames of Carmel.

The reception following the marriage ceremony was held at Del Monte Lodge in the library and card room, decorated with arrangements of pink and white gladioli. A Chinese lace cloth, belonging to the bride's family, covered the table, decorated with pink elf roses, from which the wedding cake was served.

Mrs. Hirst wore a periwinkle imported lace sheath for her daughter's wedding, with matching hat and accessories, and a corsage of butterfly orchids.

Mrs. Alfred B. Hirsch, the bride's grandmother, from Irvington, attended the marriage in a navy blue Italian silk suit and a corsage of white shattered carnations.

The bride, born in Manila, graduated from Carmel High School in 1952 before attending Stanford University, and is a member of a pioneer Alameda County family.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Savage of Millinocket, Maine, who were unable to come West for the wedding. His sister is Shirley Ann Savage. He graduated from the University of Maine and was affiliated with Theta Chi fraternity.

After a honeymoon the young couple will make their home in Bangor, Maine.

Detroits Home October 1

"Still enjoying trailer life," says Adele Detroit writing from Detroit Lakes, Minnesota, where she and her husband Lance are staying until September 1. Then they head West, expecting to arrive in San Francisco about October 1, and shortly thereafter come home to Carmel.

"California is still our favorite place," ends Adele's note to the Pine Cone, a conclusion the Detroits have made after months of exploring many different parts of the United States.

Nickelsburg Family Reunion

Every four years the family of Mrs. Janet Nickelsburg gathers in Carmel and pictures are taken and put in a book for a pictorial reunion record. Here from Friday to Tuesday were Mrs. Nickelsburg's son, Stephen, with his wife and family from Arlington, Virginia; and her two daughters, Mrs. Robert Denmark of San Francisco and Mrs. Edwin M. Parker of La Mesa, both with their husbands and children. In all there were seven adults and nine grandchildren at the family weekend gathering.

Mrs. Nickelsburg lives in San Francisco. Each Saturday morning her program Signposts for Young Scientists is heard over subscription FM Station KPFA.

"We'll all be back in Carmel in four years," said Mrs. Parker Tuesday morning with gay children's cries sounding in the background as the family prepared to leave after the farewell picture.

All Saints' Education Director

Miss Meryl A. Olsen will be director of Christian education at All Saints' Episcopal Church starting August 15. She graduated from the Sarah Dix Hamlin School in San Francisco in 1953 and this June received her bachelor's degree cum laude from Pomona College where she majored in religion and history. She was president of the Canterbury Club at Pomona for two years and represented the Episcopal Church on committees of the College Church of the Associated Colleges in Claremont. Miss Olsen also took an active interest in dramatics in college and was a member of the Masquers, dramatic honor society at Pomona.

Ted Brandhorst Wins Honor

Wesley T. Brandhorst (Ted) who graduated from Carmel High School in 1951 is one of three students in the School of Librarianship at the University of California in Berkeley to be awarded an internship in the Library of Congress for 1957-58, according to an announcement by Dean J. Periam Danton.

Ted, the son of Mrs Marguerite Brandhorst of Albany, attended the University of California as an English major after leaving Carmel High School. He held a University scholarship during each of his four undergraduate years, was awarded the E. F. Kraft Scholarship Prize, 1951-52, and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa before he graduated in 1955. He was the University of California badminton champion, a member of Tower and Flame and the Smyth Association and served on the judicial committee at the university.

The seven Library of Congress internship appointments this year were made after nation-wide competition to select top-ranking graduate students in librarianship. The library schools of Columbia University and the University of California are the only ones which have had at least one intern appointed during each of the nine years the Library of Congress program has been in effect.

Barbara Burdick Wed Saturday

Two large gold vases filled with white gladioli and stock decorated the altar of Carmel Mission on Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Barbara Burdick of Carmel Valley to former Carmelite Gareth Brydon Geering. The Very Reverend Monsignor Michael D. O'Connell performed the ceremony.

Brigadier General Ray L. Avery (USA ret.), uncle of the groom, gave the bride in marriage. She wore a white taffeta gown made with long tapered sleeves, portrait neckline, and seed pearl embroidery on the bodice which extended into a full skirt with chapel train. Seed pearls trimmed the small taffeta cap from which fell her fingertip veil of French illusion. White butterfly orchids and lilies of the valley covered her white muff which was also carried by the bride's mother at her wedding. Her pearl necklace was the gift of her brother, James J. Burdick II, stationed with the army in Japan.

Mrs. Daniel A. MacMillan III, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Milton W. Thompson and Miss Sharon Nielsen, both of Carmel. They wore similar dresses of taffeta shaded from light powder blue to forget-me-not blue, ballerina length, and their shoes matched the deepest blue of their gowns. Their blue velvet headbands were trimmed with pearls and they carried colonial bouquets of white carnations and forget-me-nots.

Milton W. Thompson of Carmel was best man. Ushers were Daniel McMillan III, brother-in-law of the groom, Dr. Robert M. Shelton and James D. Eddy, both of Pasadena, and Delk M. Oden of Washington, D.C. James Burdick, the bride's brother, was honorary usher.

Mrs. Bernard Wood Burdick of Carmel Valley and Worcester, Massachusetts, attended her daughter's wedding in a peacock blue chiffon dress, matching shoes and small feathered hat and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Anthony Marino of Carmel and Berkeley, mother of the groom, was dressed in a light blue peau de soie sheath, blue shoes and a flowered hat.

The reception following the marriage was held in the Copper Cup Room at the Naval Postgraduate School where the bride's table was decorated with white gladioli and blue delphinium. Before leaving by air for an Hawaiian honeymoon, the bride and groom toasted each other from champagne filled silver goblets. Upon their return they will live in Berkeley.

The bride is a graduate of the Bancroft School in Worcester, Massachusetts, and of Vassar College. She made her debut in Boston and Worcester in 1952.

The groom is a graduate of Carmel High School and the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York, where he received a bachelor of science degree before serving in the Navy as a lieutenant. He is now an executive in the Sacramento office of the Industrial Indemnity Company of San Francisco.

Heidi Joins Viljoen Family

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Viljoen (Carroll Reid) of Carmel Valley added a daughter, Heidi Christine, to their family of two boys on July 29 at the Peninsula Community Hospital. Greeting their sister when she came home from the hospital were brothers Benjamin Jr., four years old, and William, two and a half.

All Heidi's grandparents live in Carmel. They are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Viljoen and Mrs. Hazel Reid. Both her parents attended Carmel High School. Heidi's father is now an electronics technician for the Firestone Guided Missiles Research Laboratory in Monterey.

Second Daughter For The Pitts

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Pitts' daughter Kerry Maureen weighed an impressive nine pounds, four ounces when she arrived at the Peninsula Community Hospital on July 27. She is the sister of June Colleen, two and a half years old.

Mr. Pitts came to Carmel a year ago to be a seventh grade teacher at Sunset School. This year he will instruct both seventh and eighth grades in science and mathematics.

Kerry's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Geddes of San Jose, have already come to Carmel to greet her. As yet she has not met her paternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Renner of Campbell.

Dee Burke Lopez Latest Local Author To Publish Book

Dee Burke Lopez, author of The Braid Circle, a novel of Navy life, recently published by Vantage Press, Inc. of New York, has been a peninsula resident since March. Her husband Captain Robert Lopez is stationed at Fort Ord with the Second Brigade formerly the Fifth Division. The couple live in Bayview Park and have three small daughters, Kathleen, ten; Michaela, seven; and Patricia, three.

During the past three months Mrs. Lopez has been active in forming a local branch of the national Armed Forces Writers' League, which is open to all active and retired armed forces personnel photographers, artists, cartoonists and writers.

"I don't think there is a professional in any of these fields in the armed forces that does not belong to the League", says Mrs. Lopez, vice-president of the peninsula branch, which has been meeting at the Presidio on the second Tuesday evening of each month.

"They also remain with us in advisory capacity after they leave the forces," she continued.

The Braid Circle is Mrs. Lopez' first published book and she is at present writing another. She is former city editor of the Baker, Oregon, Democrat-Herald; and the Bremerton, Washington, Sun. She also was on the staff of the Portland Oregonian and the Portland Journal, and during World War II, served in Europe with the American Red Cross in public relations work in London and as club director in Austria for the 42nd Infantry (Rainbow) Division.

Dee Burke Lopez', The Braid Circle, novel of Navy life, tells the story of a very human young woman struggling toward maturity while married to a naval officer during the war years, amid the formalities and social demands of her position.

Marjorie Freston Recalls Tour With Ms. Schumann-Heink

booking. Things like inadequate dressing rooms where you are assigned the same room that had been assigned two tenors; where the tuner has the wrong date in his schedule book; where lights are so poorly placed you play, or sing, with such a glare in your face that you are virtually blinded.

"But somehow," she adds, "these things are always handled, and when you have won the approval of your audience and are called back on stage, you don't mind having to run for the next train, you excuse the tuner and you'd dress cheerfully in the furnace room."

A native of Birmingham, Alabama, Mrs. Freston, who has been associated with the music department of Santa Catalina School for Girls in Monterey the past season, made her debut in Birmingham at the age of eleven.

Following her graduation from the Chicago Musical College, she combined five years as accompanist and soloist with the Chicago Concert Association with coaching under such people as Sylvio Scionti, Alexander Raab and Lillian Powers; studying composition with Louis Victor Saar and Felix Borowski, and composing work for piano and voice, among which are a concerto for piano and orchestra, the musical settings for five of the Psalms, and a vocal work which was used in concert by John Charles Thomas.

Described by the press as "an exceptional young American pianist", Mrs. Freston, or Marjorie Culver, as she was known on stage, left the accompanying field for her own tour of Musical Portraits, for which she had set poems and dramatic readings to music.

"This was most fun of all," Mrs. Freston says. "It was no less exacting than accompanying, but it allowed much more freedom of personal expression and left the summers free for composing.

After more than five hundred appearances, during which she found time for a series of concerts for the University of Kansas, regular radio appearances on network stations and regular appearances on the Twilight Music Series at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago, Marjorie Freston left the mid-west with her son and daughter for California.

Accompanist for tenor Kenny Baker, Mrs. Freston lived with her family in North Hollywood for several years.

"I was teaching at the same time," she says, "and every chance there was to relax the schedule we came to Carmel and the same thing happened to me that happens to all Carmelites. I knew this was where I wanted to live and teach."

A three year teaching interim in Kansas did not alter her enthusiasm for Carmel.

With her son in the Air Force in England and her daughter settled in Van Nuys, Marjorie Freston, moving into her Santa Fe Street studio-home puts it this way, "Yes indeed yesterday was full. But today is just as full, and just as interesting."

And with plans ahead for a teaching schedule, for possible personal appearances in addition to her work as organist of the Christian Science Church of Carmel; with a new piano to break in and so much music to be played and taught and written, there's not much reason to suppose the tomorrows of the effervescent Marjorie Freston won't be just as brimming as yesterday and today.

Horse World—And that is exactly what you will find at the California State Fair and Exposition, August 28 thru September 8, with races scheduled in the afternoons and horse shows in the evenings.

Potter Opens Campaign For Attainable Disarmament Program

(2) that we reveal the secrets of how to make "clean", radiation-free bombs.

These steps, Potter states, will not endanger our security; may even reduce our dangers. He recognizes that the American people, much as they want disarmament, want freedom and security more. "No plan can be adopted," he says, "which would put us at the mercy of the Kremlin."

The reason why taking a vacation from bomb production and testing will not endanger our security is that we have been stockpiling A-bombs for eleven years, H-bombs for five, solely to be able to destroy the Soviet Union, should we be attacked. Our top military authorities have stated that we can do so now. The necessary bombs have been made. They will not lose power or ability to stay the Kremlin's hand, if we take a two year bomb vacation. Indeed, should the Soviet leaders respond to world opinion and match our pledge, our security would be strengthened.

Giving out the secret of how to make "clean" bombs, Potter states, will not endanger our security but, instead, reduce our dangers. For if ever Soviet bombs rain down upon our cities, we shall be fortunate if they are "clean", and do not spread dangerous radioactivity over wide areas. In fact, we shall rightly be condemned before the world if, knowing how to make "clean" bombs, we withhold it from others.

"This is a God-given moment," Potter stated. "Never again will we be able to take a vacation from bomb-making, without sacrifice of our security and, at the same time be in a position to still the "fall out" fears of a terrified world.

"Since Hiroshima," the Carmelite continued, "atomic bombs have been raised from the equivalent of 20,000 tons of TNT to that of 5,000,000 tons. Russian engineers, like ours, are putting finishing touches on intercontinental missiles which, very soon, will be aimed at their targets from man-made satellites, circling the world at incredible speeds. But despite these miracles in increasing dangers, the world's political leaders are still back at Hiroshima, having made no progress in reducing dangers in the last 11 years.

Potter already has written top officials and members of Congress in Washington and influential people elsewhere. He hopes that enough money will come in, as a result of the statement on the back of this issue of the Pine Cone, to permit use of the Washington (D.C.) Post. Also that use of the Post may bring in enough money to permit use of the New York Times. That, he feels, will call the plan forcefully to the attention of the President, and insure consideration by the State and Defense Departments, the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Defense Council. Final decision, he recognizes, must be made by them. He plans no effort to build up public opinion to try and force adoption of the plan.

Telephone Co. Asks Increase In Rates

Main and party line telephone rates are to remain the same although the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company has asked the California Public Utilities Commission for adjustment on some of its rates to help offset increased operating costs, according to David Muir local manager of Pacific Telephone.

The company is asking for adjustments on telephone service connection and installation charges, on person-to-person long distance calls within the state and on certain special services. Long distance rates on station-to-station calls and calls to points outside the state will remain unchanged.

Proposed installation rate changes are from the present $7.00 to $10.00 for a new residence phone; from $10.00 to $15.00 for a new business phone; and from $4.00 to $7.00 for a residence or business phone where the instrument is already on the premises.

Increase in person-to-person calls within the state for the first three minutes are to be from five cents on short hauls to 40 cents on longest haul. The charge for moving or changing a phone goes from $4.00 to $5.00 if the PUC approves the increases.

RED CROSS AMBULANCE MAKES CALL TUESDAY

Alexander F. Victor of Pebble Beach, was taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital by the Red Cross ambulance operated by the Carmel Fire Department yesterday afternoon after he suffered a fall in the Golden Bough apartments. The ambulance call was received at 2:18 o'clock.

Mr. Victor, inventor of the Victor talking machine, an early phonograph, was reported this morning to be quite comfortable after his accident, although still in the hospital.

Ten Commandments Opens Here Friday

The Ten Commandments, Cecil B. DeMille's monumental motion picture opens tomorrow at the Golden Bough Cinema for a special road-show engagement. Of epic proportions, the film was ten years in preparation, more than a year in actual filming, and De Mille, always meticulous about authenticity in his pictures, took his gigantic cast to the actual locales described in the Bible for the filming. Years of research went into costume data, customs, and other facts which permitted the master Hollywood showman to reproduce for modern film goers the era and atmosphere of Moses' time, 3,200 odd years ago.

Charlton Heston plays Moses, while Yul Brynner has the role of the Egyptian king who becomes Moses' antagonist in his efforts to free the chosen people from the Egyptians. Anne Baxter, Yvonne De Carlo, Judith Anderson, Edward G. Robinson, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, John Derek and a host of other first-rank players head De Mille's cast of 15,000.

An Attainable Disarmament Program for CHRISTIAN AMERICA

The Hiroshima bomb's explosive power equalled 20,000 tons of TNT. H-bombs have explosive power exceeding 5,000,000 tons. The Hiroshima bomb was dropped from a slow-flying propeller-driven plane. Engineers are now putting the finishing touches on intercontinental missles which, in a very few years, will be guided to their targets by man-made satelites, circling the globe at incredible speeds. Startling beyond belief are the achievements of physicists and engineers, in multiplying the world's perils.

Unhappily, the world's political leaders have made no parallel progress. So, very rapidly, we have been making progress backward. They are right back where they were 11 years ago. Not only that, but the London Disarmament Conference has made it clear that national interests are too divergent to warrant hope of worth-while results through international agreement.

If any prograss is to be made, it must come through bold, imaginative, unilateral action by some one nation. Specifically, by the United States. Which raises the question: what if anything we can do to influence world disarmament in an important way, yet not endanger our own security?

FIRST: We can announce that, whatever other nations do, we will not make or test any more bombs, for the next two years.

Contrary to what many may think, this will not put us at the mercy of the Kremlin. Were that the case it could not be put into effect, for the majority of Americans, much as they want disarmament, want security and freedom more.

The reason the plan will not endanger our security is that we have been making and testing A Bombs for 11 years, H Bombs for more than five, with the sole objective of being in a position to destroy the Soviet Union, should we or our allies be attacked. Our top military leaders assure us that we are now in a position to do so. The necessary bombs already are made. They will remain potent during a two year vacation from bomb making and testing. That is all the security we need.

Should we make such a pledge, the Kremlin will be under great world pressure to do likewise. If she refuses, she will stand condemned as the world's chief enemy of disarmament and world security. If she follows our lead, we shall be safer, for the step we have taken.

In making our announcement we should, of course, state our hope that before the two years are up, the nations can reach agreements which will assure that atomic bomb production will not be resumed.

SECOND: We can reveal to all nations the secret of how to make "clean," relatively radiation-free bombs.

Instead of weakening our security, this may greatly reduce our dangers. For if ever Soviet bombs rain down upon our cities, God will be good to us if they are "clean," and do not spread deadly radioactivity over wide areas.

Should the Kremlin, after release of this information, continue to test "dirty" bombs, the whole world will rise to protest. And regardless of the inclination of our censors, we shall stand condemned before the world if, knowing how to make "clean" bombs, we withhold the information from others.

In a way, this is a God-given moment, that will prove fleeting. Never again, probably, shall we be in a position to discontinue bomb production and testing for two years, without endangering our security and, at the same time, remove "fall out" fears from a terrified world.

This can become Christian America's program if everyone who reads this statement, here or elsewhere, will send it to the President, urging that it be given careful but critical consideration at top levels. Will you tear it out and send it, saying, "This program seems to make sense to me."

If you would like to see this statement printed in the Washington Post, where it will be seen by top officials and Members of Congress, send check made out to
